

the CRÖZ NEST

Adam Crozier interviews himself from the future.

Is humanity overthrown by ants?

I, for one, welcomed our new insect overlords.

Will there be transporters like on Star Trek?

There will be transporters, but expect to be infinitely disappointed by your health.

What did you regret most about high school?

No regrets. Met a lot of beautiful people, made a ton of friendships and even started to T-pose.

Anything else you'd like to add?

It's amazing how soon we forget, and yet, I look forward to the fondness of my high school memories. These experiences shaped me in ways I couldn't imagine. Even after I was a bulldog, I knew that in my heart I am a part of all that I have met. I learned that at PMHS, Home of the Silver and the Blue. I wish that insect-speak was taught as an elective. Write your senators and demand the class be taught, by law, in Indiana. We were so focused on less important stuff, we forgot about the ants.
